You're invited to Foreign Language and International Studies Day!

Dear fellow language educator,

The thirty eighth Foreign Language and International Studies Day is shaping up to be a fantastic day! FLIS is Oregon's largest event devoted to language and culture study and we hope you will come participate in this day of enriching presentations. This year approximately 1,300 high school students will gather at the the University of Oregon campus to discover and learn on May 6, 2016.

The program offers over 100 language and culturally related presentations, workshops and hands-on activities, including a wide range of subjects with titles such as Swedish Culture, Italian Gestures, Folklore of Northeast Brazil, Persian Music and Culture and many others. Your students will have many chances throughout the day to use their foreign language skills as well as acquire new ones. The variety and range of presentations is truly impressive, as past participants can personally attest to.

If you have any further questions, please visit our website at: babel.uoregon.edu and follow the links to FLIS. Please note: Registration is limited — space is available on a first-come, first served basis. Questions? Call us at (541) 346-4011. Our e-mail is flis@uoregon.edu. We look forward to welcoming you to our campus on May 6th and providing your students with a very special day.

Sincerely,

Jeff Magoto
